

Our family helping yours when you need it most.

Spicer-Mullikin, family-owned since 1906

May 18, 2021

To our community,

At Spicer-Mullikin our commitment to the health and safety of our employees, facilities, communities and the families we serve has remained steadfast for 115 years. You are always our top priority.

As vaccines become more available and we continue to work together to limit the coronavirus' spread, our services will conform to the COVID-19 mitigation protocols issued by the federal government, the State of Delaware, the CDC, OSHA, and National Funeral Directors Association.

As of May 21, 2021, per the State of Delaware, all services handled by Spicer-Mullikin will now operate at full chapel capacity. Face coverings are required for those not immunized with the COVID-19 vaccine, and appropriate distancing (at least 3 feet) is required at all times per the Governor. We are receiving updated information via the CDC and National Funeral Directors Association regularly and will do our best to keep you informed.

We have other service options, including private live streaming, to offer our community and will work with each family individually and together we will make sure your loved one's life is celebrated safely and with devotion.

We encourage all families who have suffered a loss in their family due to COVID-19 to contact FEMA about its COVID-19 Funeral Assistance program.

Spicer-Mullikin has had the honor of serving Delaware communities since 1906. We have safely served thousands of families through outbreaks, epidemics and natural catastrophes. Every year since 2014, we have earned the Pursuit of Excellence Award from the National Funeral Directors Association for our ongoing commitment to providing exceptional service to grieving families and the community, while adhering to the highest ethical and professional standards.

We deeply appreciate your and your family's continued trust in Spicer-Mullikin during these challenging times – we will always provide exceptional services that reflect your love.
